Camp Grayling Guard Receives Lifesaving Medal

Colonel Richard Schmidt, Commander of Camp Grayling, presented Sergeant Donald J. Walther the Michigan National Guard Lifesaving Medal during an award ceremony April 19 at Camp Grayling.

Sergeant Walther is credited with saving the life of his 16 month old grandson, Jeremy Barker, on July 24, 1985. Sgt. Walker, under extreme pressure, exhibited his professional competence during an emergency situation. When the child began to choke on a piece of candy Sgt. Walther's quick thinking ability allowed him to successfully perform the Heimlich Maneuver on the unconscious child and dislodge the candy. His actions reflect great credit upon himself, the military service and the Michigan National Guard.

Sergeant Walther has been a part-time member of the Michigan National Guard for seven (7) years, currently assigned to the 1071st Maintenance Company stationed at Camp Grayling. Sgt. Walther lives with his wife Martina in Gaylord. He has three children and four grandchildren. He is employed full-time by the Schotte and Viviano Construction Company also located in Gaylord.

Restraining Order Halts AuSable No-Kill Rule

A restraining order issued last Thursday by 46th Circuit Court Judge Alton T. Davis halted a new catch-and-release rule slated to go into effect on the mainstream AuSable Saturday — the opening day of trout season.

Davis issued the restraining order after a lengthy hearing Wednesday at a filled Crawford County courthouse room.

In his ruling, Davis said evidence from the Wednesday hearing showed in approving the no-kill rule, the Natural Resources Commission (NRC) apparently knew it was not necessary to protect the resource, it was not supported by a majority of the public responding to the issue, and it was not supported by the DNR fisheries staff.

Furthermore, Dr. Robert J. Behnke, a national authority on trout, supported most of the fisheries staff views on the appropriateness of no-kill for the mainstream.

Behnke also noted that the NRC provided no means to measure results of the new rule, and the new rule on the mainstream could affect data collected from the no-kill experiment on the South Branch. Behnke testified as an expert witness for the plaintiffs, who include Committee To Oppose Catch and Release executive board members, Senator Connie Binsfeld, Representative Ralph Ostling, The City of Grayling, and The AuSable River Systems Property Owners Association. They were represented by attorney Ron Wilson.

Davis also pointed out in his decision that Kevin Smith, the counsel for the defendants, conceded the catch and release rule departs from traditional recreational objectives by not allowing fishermen to keep fish. The defendants in the suit are the DNR, the NRC, Ronald Skoog, DNR director, and John Scott, DNR Fisheries Chief.

Davis said these facts and others "...lead the Court to the conclusion that the Plaintiffs have demonstrated the existence of a real and substantial question, i.e. whether or not the Commission acted arbitrarily and capriciously (in approving the no-kill rule)....This question becomes the ultimate issue to be resolved at trial."

Davis also said the plaintiffs have demonstrated actual or threatened irreparable harm for which they have no adequate remedy in law. Tourism is important to

Rayburn Property Submitted For Trust Fund Purchase

An application to buy 1,190 acres along the AuSable mainstream has been submitted to the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund.

The 1,190 acres extend from M-72 East to North Down River Road and include 1.5 miles of frontage on the AuSable. (The map shows approximate boundaries as shown in the 1986 Land Atlas and Plat Book.)

The Rayburn property is one of the few remaining large parcels of land remaining along the AuSable. The application to the trust fund is for 100 percent funding.

In the application submitted by Cornell Realty, the land is described as a great hunting and fishing area with deer, bear, rabbits, squirrels, partridge, woodcock, and trout among the sport animals.

The application says the tract and its 1.5 miles of frontage can play an important role in protecting rocky spawning areas downstream from becoming filled with sand.

The application also says there is a threat to the land from over-development. If small parcels were carved out of the 1,190 acres, this could create over-use of the river, it says.

Crawford County Treasurer Joe Wakeley said if the trust fund did purchase the property, the state would continue to pay regular taxes on it. So the local government units would not lose tax revenue as is the case with a large tract of land around Wakeley Lake bought by the federal government. For the Wakeley Lake tract, taxes will fall from regular rates to a low amount paid on federal forest land.

Wakeley added that some tax revenue could be lost because the state assesses the value of its land differently than townships.

Although it is not mentioned on the initial trust fund application, the Rayburn property also contains some prime Kirtland's warbler habitat.

In addition to the Rayburn property, 642 acres of private land around the George Mason Tract was proposed for purchase by the trust fund.

The 32 parcels listed were valued at about a total of $200,000. The parcels are spread along the north and south end of the tract.

TROUT PLANTED IN KIDS SECTION — Grayling Fish Hatchery Committee members Bob Smock and Howard Hatfield planted 250 trout last Friday in the Kids Section on the East Branch between the hatchery and the mainstream. The Grayling Booster Club donated $1000 for trout which will be planted each month in the summer.

Warm Weather Lures Fishermen To Streams

Trout fishermen enjoyed temperatures in the 70's and 80's Saturday and Sunday for the opening weekend of trout season in Crawford County.

Water levels were lower than usual for this time of year and the AuSable and Manistee rivers were clearer than normal for the last weekend of April.

Instead of seeing snowflakes in the air or on the ground, trout fishermen had a chance to soak in some sun and catch a rare April sunbat.

Skip Madsen, of Skip's Sport Shop along M-72 West, said the nice weather helped produce one of the biggest openers the area has had in years.

He said fishermen he talked to generally reported good success.

On the mainstream AuSable, the opening weekend success was okay but fly fishing usually isn't at its best toward the first part of the season, Madsen said. Although he added that a very good Hendrickson's hatch was reported at 9 a.m. Monday and fishermen were catching fish.

On the North Branch, Madsen said the fishermen he talked to didn't do as well this year as last opening weekend. A lot of fishermen were reported on the North Branch, especially around the bridges.

On the South Branch, fishing pressure was lighter because that branch of the river usually has high and dirty water this time of year. Although the water was better than normal, fishing pressure was still light.

On the Manistee, Madsen said the fishermen who knew what they were doing had good success. Others not so knowledgeable didn't fare well at all. The Manistee River was reported in good shape for this time of year.

Pete Stephan, AuSable River guide, said fishing pressure on the mainstream was moderate Saturday morning. From Burton's to Wakeley, his riverboat passed about 55-60 fishermen wading the river. Stephan said there were only six or seven canoes on the river then.

On Sunday morning, Stephan said the pressure doubled. There were more than 100 wading fishermen in the same stretch, 8-10 canoes, and four riverboats.

Stephan, who is in the middle of a fight against a mandatory catch-and-release rule for the mainstream AuSable, said two things caught his eye opening weekend. First, he noticed a lot of old-style wicker creels worn by fishermen. He estimated as many as 8 out of 10 fishermen had creels. The second thing he saw was a lot of fish being returned to the river.

Despite a court battle over the catch-and-release rule, Stephan noted fishermen on both days along the Holy Water stretch were congenial and no problems were reported.

April Suntans Rare Treat For Residents

In the same month that ice left Lake Margrethe, there were water skiers and swimmers testing it waters.

Dazed by an April heat wave, Crawford County residents donned shorts and bathing suits, spread the suntan oil, and yes, some even took the plunge over the weekend as temperatures soared.

Saturday's high of 79 was topped early Sunday and a high of 85 was recorded here.

At Kneff Lake, one of four trout lakes in the county, fishermen had unexpected company for the opening weekend of trout season. Instead of a surprise snowstorm for opening weekend, fishermen there found sunbathers on the beach and even some brave swimmers.

The 80-degree weather managed to burn out the memory of snow flurries here earlier in the week on Monday, April 21.

Spring is the season for dramatic temperature shifts here in northern Michigan. This year in March in a 20-day period there was a swing in temperatures from a low of 24 below one night to a high of 75 one afternoon. That's a difference of about 100 degrees in only 20 days time!

For those who have your hopes up of an extended summer from April through August — here's a look at last year's weather.

On April 27, 1985, there was a high of 80 degrees. Four days later the high was 40 degrees and it snowed. About two weeks of warm weather followed and then on May 13 it snowed again with a high of 44.

Pessimistic forecast? Not really. Just good advice to enjoy the warmth when it's here.

From Our Corner...

With a reprieve of one week of having to fill this space, we must say it was relaxing...

Now, it is back in trying to put something together for the May 1st issue, and right now it is Sunday afternoon, April 20th and we are sitting in John and Toni's dinette watching it rain...

It started to rain Saturday afternoon and hasn't stopped...John just said this was typical Ohio weather...he said, if it doesn't rain sometime during 48 hours the people think it is drought...

Our first leg of our sojourn to Nevada has been uneventful...Friday, we had a perfect day for our trip to Amherst...before it started to rain Saturday the temperatures got to 78° with beautiful blue skies...

All the girls just left to do some shopping, John is watching drag racing on the TV...that is something I never got interested in...so with a quiet house we will try and at least get something started and possibly finish our turkey Monday...we want to have it in the mail before we leave Tuesday for Las Vegas...

After reading the papers the past few days following the U.S. strike against Libya, and all the threats of retaliation by Khadafy and other terrorist groups, with much concern around air terminals and planes for their acts, we have become a bit apprehensive on our flight to Nevada, especially, how we have to make a plane change at O'Hare in Chicago for Las Vegas...

We read last week that O'Hare was one of the possible targets of the major airports in the U.S., it will be interesting to see how much tighter security is now compared to last year when we flew the same route...

Speaking of flying...I was just looking over our tickets and noticed we leave Cleveland at 5:43 p.m. and arrive in Chicago at 5:45 p.m., now that is fast...in fact it is only 2 hours and 10 minutes from Chicago to Vegas, that is, if you don't take in the time changes...

I noticed our bride Saturday raising her right arm up and then pulling down, at first I thought her shoulder hurt, but, then I found out she was practicing for her encounter with the one arm bandits...something like a pitcher warming up for a baseball game, I guess...

With this happening down here it reminded me of other occasions at home, she sort of locked her fingers together, flexed her wrists, and made a swinging motion, that too, I found out she was practicing for the upcoming golf season...she reasoned that she had to find out how her fractured wrist would effect her pull and swing...logic, I guess, one should be prepared for their two favorite sports...

An idle thought...every time we come to the Buckeye state and pick up the Lorain and Cleveland papers I have wondered why the two cities names are not on the flag on the front page...

In Lorain, all the flag reads is "The Journal", no name of the city even on the datelines...could be a paper from Kentucky, or any other place...

I guess the one I noticed most was "The Plain Dealer", I was looking for a Cleveland paper before boarding the plane, and I asked...a man pointed to "The Plain Dealer"...where we were headed I figured "The Plain Dealer" should be the Las Vegas or Atlantic City newspaper...just an idle thought...

It is hard to figure how much this turkey will fill, so we will call a halt and hope Rena can decipher our scribbling...with that we bid T.J., Stefany and Amber goodnight, and to all have a nice weekend...

WE'RE HURTING.

Saving lives can be very expensive. The costs of our disaster relief and other humanitarian programs keep mounting. And we can't afford to come up short.

Please help.

Grayling superintendent of schools Joseph Stripe this week revealed the honor students of the 1963 graduation class of Grayling High School. Named as valedictorian was Donna Jean Fenton, daughter of the Elmer Fentons, and as salutatorian was Carole Anne Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gross. Completing the top ten point-average standings in the Senior Class are Tim Neal, Gary DuBois, Chris Kroll, Sharon Williams, Nancy Nelson, Walt Fallon, Penny Pettyjohn, Lois Denewitt and Jack Welch, the last two having identical averages.

Experiencing one of the nicest openers in several years as far as the weather was concerned, an estimated 125,000 to 150,000 trout fishermen found the new season of 1963 quite good. With rivers down to almost mid-summer depths and a warm sun shining down, the anglers enjoyed the outdoors whether they creeled any trout or not. Ken Halstead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Halstead of Lake Margrethe, was one of the lucky anglers in the "kids only" section of the stream. He netted a 22 inch male rainbow Saturday morning and later added a 15 inch "brown" to go with the big one.

Mrs. Glen Fenton visited her daughters, Peggy at Chicago and the Ed Holtcamp family at Manistee, for several days, returning home Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sojka and children Paul, and Chris of Rochester spent the weekend with her mother and brother, Mrs. Ernest Borchers and Don. The latter two had as their guest the past two weeks Miss Tanya Sojka, whom they brought here after spending Easter with the Sojka family. Tanya returned home with her folks after the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Linendoll and son Mitchell spent the weekend in Detroit, visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gehringer.

Miss Cindy Harwood celebrated her 10th birthday Tuesday by inviting 10 of her school mates to her home for supper. After many games were enjoyed Mrs. Harwood drove the guests to their various homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Baynham, are new grandparents, to Rebecca Jane, daughter of the Larry Baynham's, who arrived on Tuesday, April 23rd.

The Grayling High School band came in a close second in the judging following its participation in the Kalkaska Trout Festival last Saturday. Gerrish Higgins High School of Roscommon carried off top honors. There were 10 bands taking part in the Class C and D division. Band director LeRoy Christian, who observed his pupils from the sidelines, stated that he felt the band played one of its best performances in all the years that Grayling High has taken part in the Kalkaska Trout Festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schnelker of Flint spent the weekend visiting the latter's parent, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hoesli.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Haines and daughter Shirley of Pontiac visited from Wednesday to Sunday at the home of Mrs. Haines' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

THE HERESY OF INVITATIONAL REGENERATION

Just as many trust a little water on the head to get them to heaven, even so, some trust other forms of church ritual. Some walk an isle and shake hands with a pastor, fill out a membership card, weep at a mourner's bench, practice charismatic gifts, or obey some other form of church ritual or dogma to be saved.

Since most church rituals differ between denominations, people are trusting many different ways of being saved and going to heaven. The thing most of them share in common is uncertainty of eternal salvation. Those who must respond to an emotional invitation to be saved, are usually required to continue coming back to the altar to stay saved. Trips to the altar become tests and evidences of spiritual maturity. Those who refuse to yield to these pressures are considered cold and unspiritual. This is not Bible truth.

While some people may be saved inspite of church rituals, none are saved by the works-righteousness required by them. "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost." (Titus 3:5). Salvation is always by God's grace and mercy, and never by human works.

(Eph. 2:8,9). No church sacrament or ritual can produce eternal life.

Salvation is through personal faith in our Lord Jesus Christ alone. "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God." (1 John 5:11-13).

The apostle Peter tells us that regeneration or being born again comes from God's Holy Word, not church ritual. "Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever." (1 Pet. 1:23). It is the Holy Spirit who uses the Word of God to bring about regeneration. (John 3:5-7). Assurance of salvation comes not through church rituals, but through trusting Jesus Christ by faith as Lord and Savior. (John 1:12). Receiving Jesus Christ as personal savior produces conversion in the heart and life evidenced by faith in God and repentance from sin. (Acts 20:21, 1 Thess. 1:9).

Mrs. Neil Kellogg returned on the first of March after spending four months in California with her daughter, Glenda Miller near the San Bernardino Mountains. Her son, Bill and wife, Margaret, of Belleville, surprised them by flying out last November and renting a car and taking in a lot of sightseeing with them, among them the Mojave Desert, the Queen Mary docked at Long Beach, and Howard Hughes' Spruce Goose. Neil is now at home in an apartment just off Madison Street on the South Side.

Was Libyan Raid Right

by Richard Millman

IS THE UNITED STATES better off because of the American air raid on Libya? Is the world better off? Only time will tell.

CRITICISM OF President Reagan's decision came from expected sources. Anti-war groups on campuses and in liberal enclaves around the country protested mightily. So did demonstrators in many other countries.

We tend to pay more attention to protest groups than their raw numbers warrant. For example, Michigan State University has about 44,000 students; the anti-Reagan post-Libya rally there attracted a few hundred...but it got a lot of attention. The same proportion usually prevails in other countries, too.

Newspaper columnists in this country generally were split on the Libyan raid, pretty much along the lines they usually split on liberal-conservative lines. For example, those who oppose American aid to the Nicaraguan Contras generally opposed the raid on Libya; those who support one generally supported the other.

Meanwhile, in Congress, opposition was minuscule. That was a bit surprising. Michigan's two Democratic senators, for example, who usually oppose Mr. Reagan's foreign policy leadership, were behind him on Libya.

BUT THE MOST pronounced reaction came from the people themselves, who tended to support the Libyan bombing by a large margin, as measured by various letter-to-the-editor columns, television person-on-the-street interviews, radio call-in shows, and other informal measurements of that sort.

That's an interesting development; the same sorts of reaction were registered in this country after Mr. Reagan sent the troops to Grenada a while back.

Does this mean that America is really a war-like nation? That's what our enemies around the world are saying, of course. Maybe we are. Grenada and Libya certainly seem to point that way.

It's difficult for the ordinary person to know what's right and what's wrong in this case because we are not aware of all the evidence. Mr. Reagan claims solid evidence that Libyan leaders were responsible for the Berlin disco bombing; Sen. Carl Levin, a usual Reagan critic, said he saw the evidence, too, and he believes. Out here in the grass roots, we have to have more trust to form our opinions.

AMERICA'S GRASS ROOTS reaction, it seems to me, was not formulated only by the Berlin disco bombing, even coupled with the latest airplane bombing where three people fell to their deaths and others were killed or injured.

The favorable public reaction goes back further than that. America's frustration has been growing over the past few years. The Iranian hostage crisis frustrated us. The Tripoli embassy burning frustrated us. The horrible terrorist attack on the Marine barracks in Lebanon went largely unanswered (despite the rather ineffectual naval bombardment that followed). The capture of the Achille Largo is fresh in our minds. So are the airport bombings, and the kidnappings, and other tragedies. And on and on and on.

The "enemy" strikes in isolated incidents (or are they isolated?), and we do not or cannot strike back. We seem powerless to find a way to stop the attacks, or even counter them. The "enemy" strikes, and strikes again, and again...and nothing happens in reply.

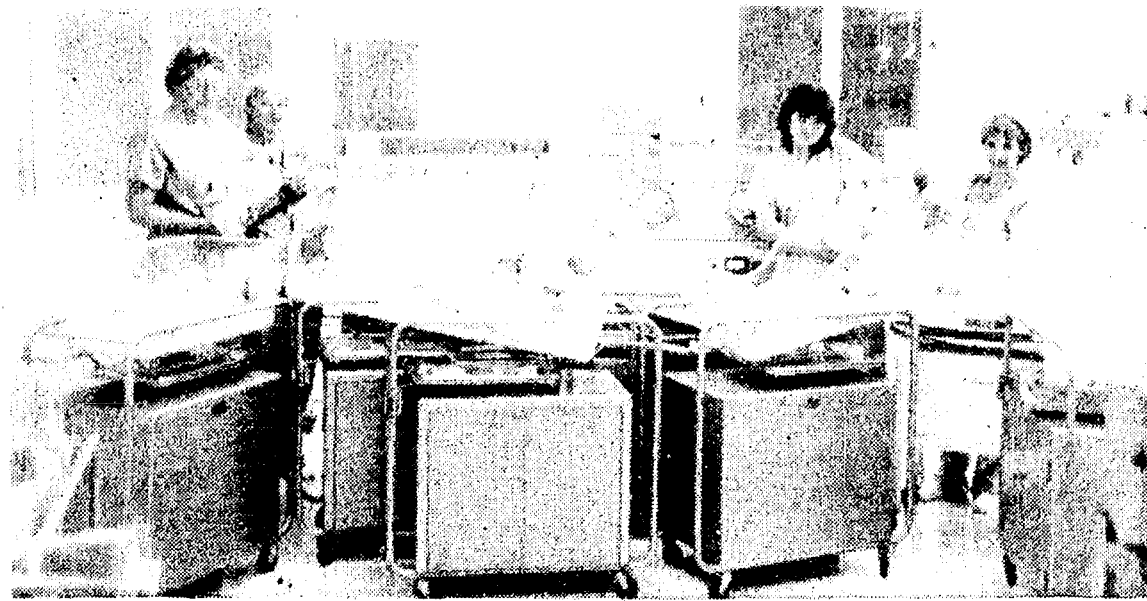

The raid on Libya is an answer. Here is a response. Here is action. Finally we are doing something. That's why we generally support the attack on Libya.

IS IT A SINGLE "enemy" which has been attacking the United States in these ways? Probably not. Are Libya and Col. Khadafy solely responsible for these attacks and this frustration? Probably not. Is there a conspiracy among terrorists to drive the United States into submission, or into war which would flit with national and maybe world destruction? Possibly.

While there is much agreement to back Mr. Reagan's decision — and much argument to oppose it, too — I find no joy or satisfaction in what has happened. I don't condemn what Mr. Reagan has decided, nor do I endorse it. I just don't know if it's right. I do know that if I were making the decision, I would not have done it.

Are the United States and the world better off because of the American raid on Libya?

Only time will tell. But personally, I seriously doubt it.

Shirley Clark, R.N., Retires from Mercy

"She's always gone out of her way for patients and given more than anyone ever expected," says a friend of Shirley Clark, R.N., one of Mercy Hospital's obstetrics nurses who is retiring April 22 for a new challenge in Kentucky.

Grayling's favorite OB nurse could have assisted in delivering your children if they were born during the past 14 years. She's been a nurse on Mercy's Obstetrics Unit since February 1972, and her patients as well as co-workers know the special person she really is.

"She's been a multiple person in the department for years," says Rosie Gallagher, R.N. at Mercy's OB Unit. "Shirley's worked all shifts, and everyone looks to her as a role model. The staff will always miss and think of her."

Another friend and co-worker, Claudia VanHill, says Shirley has helped in many ways that might have gone unnoticed. Donating items to the OB Unit such as cameras and radios, giving patients a ride home or handdelivering birth certificates, Shirley has always gone the extra mile in her work.

"To know Shirley is to love her," said VanHill. "She is a great teacher, totally professional and is a fabulous role model. 'We'll miss her bows she's always made for the newborn's hair.'"

Shirley's fellow employees and friends honored her with a retirement dinner at the Holiday on the Lake April 15. A memorabilia quilt handmade by the OB department staff was presented to her as a going away gift. Every employee made a different square for the quilt reflecting their memories of Shirley.

"We'll really miss her," said Dr. Donald Burkley,

Family Practitioner from Grayling. "She's a cool head. Shirley's been the PR person there for a long time, and really gets involved with the patients and their care."

Shirley and her husband Jim, owner of Clark's Pharmacy in Grayling, will be moving to Kentucky in the near future. The Clarks love horses and wanted to make a change. Naturally Shirley will be working... in a 10-bed OB department much like Mercy's.

Divorce Over 40

The relative number of divorced persons, in comparison to married, is increasing steadily. This may reflect a greater acceptance of divorce itself, or a greater comfort of the divorced to remain, rather than remarry as social pressure in past years often encouraged.

Census data indicate that a somewhat larger number of persons are listed as separated than are as divorced.

Divorce involves a loss of many social signs and connections upon which the individual's identity was built. The divorced person goes through a period of rebuilding and redefining.

Divorce may contribute to a loss of identity, to feelings of aloneness, powerlessness, and despair, to the need to cry out for help. The individual's circle of friends changes. Some relationships may continue.

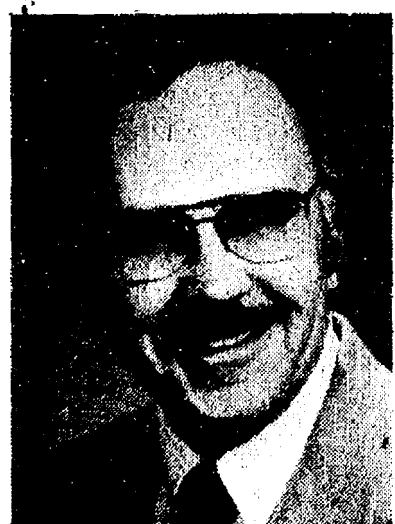

There are many obstacles encountered by the individual going through the process of divorce and redefinition as a single person. Legal problems relating to property and financial arrangements as well as conflicting emotional attitudes involving self and former spouse are part of the developmental tasks that are as difficult as these of adjusting to marriage.

Divorce involves self-evaluation. Sometimes questions of self-confidence, anxiety, and guilt are aggravated by difficulties in communicating the meaning of the present life situation to children or to other relatives and close friends.

There is a period in which the individual goes through many of the learning experiences of adolescence, for example, developing dating strategies. Middle-aged persons forming such new associations may feel awkward and juvenile. Although more and more divorced persons remain single longer, most eventually marry.

I feel there is a need for a Support Group for Women Divorced Over the Age of 40. You out there who are divorced will not feel you are going through this alone. Please call me, Maude Rice, 348-8522, if you are going through a divorce or newly divorced.

B.E.S.T. Program Would Benefit Middle-Class Most, Bowman Says

Warren M. Hoyt, Exec. Dir., MPA

Governor Blanchard's college tuition guarantee proposal is aimed at helping middle-income families provide higher education for their children, but that does not mean poor families will receive no benefit from the program, Treasurer Robert Bowman told a House Committee recently.

Students from poor families will be able to take advantage of other financial assistance that middle-income families will not need because of the "BEST" program, he said, and the state itself might invest some of its appropriated scholarship money into the program to provide scholarships for needy students.

Speaking before the Colleges and Universities Committee, which is considering HB 5505 that implements the program, Bowman admitted that the baccalaureate education system trust — first announced as part of the governor's State of the State address in January, but which was not introduced until last week — would assist those families that could afford to make the initial investments into the fund.

But even though truly needy families might not be able to directly participate, they still should see some benefit for their children who are bound for college, he said.

Under the program, families would be able to make either a one-time lump sum payment or periodic payments that equal the lump sum into a state managed investment fund that would guarantee the cost of tuition for four years at any public Michigan university.

Payments would be adjusted annually based on changes to tuition and investment earnings.

The program would create several plans so that parents could ask that their payments be invested in tax-free or taxable securities.

Parents would be able to remove their payments in situations where their child went to an out-of-state college, a private school or decided not to attend college.

"This is a middle-income plan," said Bowman.

But once investments are made, middle-income families should not need other scholarship monies as much, freeing those funds for poor families, he said.

Plus, the state could consider investing a portion of the funds it already spends on scholarships and grants into the program for poorer students.

In 1984-85 the state spent $49.1 million on college scholarships and grants. The state spent another $242.3 million in student loans.

The treasurer also admitted that individuals who invest in private funds established by brokerage houses may get a slightly higher return on their investments, but said most citizens would not use brokerage firms. They would find it easier to invest with a state fund, he said.

Bowman also said the program should not create a situation where college tuitions are held either artificially low or high. He also said the program would be limited to 100,000 investors in the first year.

And, the program would be designed so that any person or organization could make an investment for a child. For example, Bowman said, a local Parent-Teacher Association could make an investment on behalf of a future high school graduating class.

Speaking in favor of the program was Michigan State University President John DiBraggio who said he worries most about the ability of lower middle class families to afford the cost of college education for their children.

The program will help assure "that our youngsters will have an education for which they are qualified."

GPA Celebrates 3rd Anniversary

March was anniversary month for the Grayling Promotional Association and they noted the event with something special at each weekly meeting. At one meeting they reviewed all past accomplishments and the list was impressive. GPA started in March of 1983 with a small group of women who wanted to work together to serve and promote the Grayling area. GPA has grown to over 50 members and is still working to promote the area and any other good cause that comes along where the entire area will benefit.

Elections were held the last week of February with new officers taking over in March. Elected were Karen Kammer, President; Lanice Rubin, Vice President; D.J. Taylor, Secretary; and Moe McNamara, Treasurer.

GAP has several members working on the Milltown Festival committee. The club itself has committed to raise $500 and had their first fundraiser on March 10th — A benefit basketball game between the Grayling All Stars and the WJGS Air Aces.

GPA presented the Fish Hatchery committee with a signed sketch of the hatchery made by Terry Dickinson, to use at their discretion. The sketch was made for GPA for use on their notecards that are available for purchase at local stores. The notecards have six scenes of local interest portrayed, and were done by Terry and Kimberly Ann.

At last week's meeting GPA toured the depot to see the renovation. They have committed to renovate one room and are in the process of deciding which room and what area of business they would like to depict.

GPA's newest project is a spring promotion scheduled for Saturday, May 3rd. This includes a Spring Hat Parade, Ribbon Hunt, and Magic or Clown Show — all for the kids.

Girl Scout Leader's Day

Anyone can be a Girl Scout leader. Anyone, that is, who is patient, fun-loving, understanding, enduring, inspirational, cooperative, sympathetic, creative, fair, organized, caring and who can find tremendous personal satisfaction and growth in helping young girls seek wonder and fulfillment in their lives.

Yes, ma'am — and sir — we guess you could say that Girl Scout leaders are a very, very, special kind of people.

Girl Scouts certainly think so. That's why they honor their leaders on Girl Scout Leader's Day and cherish the involvement of the concerned women and men who give freely of their time to make a difference in girls' lives.

Today's Girl Scout leaders are highly-motivated, specially-trained individuals who find they get as much out of Girl Scouting as they give, whether it's accompanying Brownie Girl Scouts on their first camping trip or helping a Senior Girl Scout decide on a career.

If you know a Girl Scout leader; today is her — or his — day. Please take a moment to say thanks.

And, if you are a Girl Scout leader; our caps are off to you.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

by Wendell L. Hoover
Park Interpreter

Late last week I checked the status of the Adder's Tongue or Yellow Trout Lily. In the area where I looked the leaves from last year had been matted down by the snow until they formed a uniform tan colored carpet. The pointed leaves of the Trout Lily had pushed their way up through those leaves in their quest for the sunlight and were already a couple of inches tall. The blooming date for the Trout Lily is very predictable. According to the records I have kept it will be in full bloom by May 6 which is only two weeks away.

To the "Old Timers" the blooming Trout Lily was a signal that the trout were catchable. It seems appropriate, to me at least, that the blooming of the Trout Lily and the traditional opening of trout season almost coincide.

This morning (Monday) I looked across the road at the little oak beside the work camp office as I have done frequently since the snow melted. For all that time there have been leaves still clinging to the branches, but this morning it was bare. The oak flowers very late, which helps it escape the frost during most years. This late flowering is significant when we consider the importance of acorns to a large variety of wildlife species that inhabit our woodlands.

Viking Band Boosters Annual Dinner Dance

On May 9th, at 6:00 p.m. the Viking Band Boosters will be sponsoring their annual dinner dance at the Holiday Inn. This year's event is featuring the High Society Wise Guys for a dance filled evening from 8:00 p.m. to midnight. A steak dinner is the main entree; there will be a cash bar before and after dinner. The proceeds from this year's event will help toward the purchase of new uniforms for the senior Viking Band.

Tickets for the dinner/dance will be $12.50 per person and may be picked up at Flowers by Josie, Mac's Drugs, the Holiday Inn or from any band booster member. Help support the band, and treat yourself to a great evening!

Sooty Walls Make a Comeback

Gail Edwards
Extension Home Economist

The increased use of wood stoves and fireplaces and some return to coal stoves by homeowners may result in increased deposits of smoky, sooty soil on walls and ceilings near the stove.

This soil is greasy, so an alkaline cleaner will work best to remove it. You will need a stronger solution for soot than for normal soil, but you must take care not to damage the paint. An enamel gloss or semi-gloss paint will stand up to cleaning better than a flat latex.

For painted walls and woodwork, use a sponge to apply a solution of one tablespoon of trisodium phosphate in one gallon warm water. You should not use this solution on natural finished wood paneling. Rinse well with a sponge dipped in clear water. If you wipe off excess water with cotton rags, which you launder and reuse many times, your surface will be cleaner. Change wash and rinse waters often.

If this solution does not remove the sooty soil, you can add more than two table-spoonsful per gallon. Too much TSP will dull the paint surface or even remove paint.

Other alkalis that may be added to warm water to remove these greasy soil deposits include ammonia, washing soda and laundry detergent. Try a small amount at first, adding more only if the soil is stubborn.

Wear rubber gloves to protect your skin. Avoid spilling the solution on other surfaces in the room. If spills do occur, wipe them up promptly.

Cleaning such soil is best done annually in late spring after the heating season is ended.

Herbal Corner

Some of the feedback I received about dyeing Easter eggs were the results received. Darlin', please remember, whenever you use herbs in a pot or pan you must use glass or stainless steel - enamel is okay on occasions - whenever you cook an herb for medicinal or dyeing purposes. Tin, iron, aluminum, and plain steel are alloys that will change the dye color or alter the chemical in an herb for medicinal use. Use only glass or stainless.

According to Garden Way's book of "Carrots Love Tomatoes" "Pyrethrum flowers may be dried on sheets of newspapers in a well ventilated place. Pulverize it to a powder and mix with water for spraying.

"Rotenone comes from the derrick root. Soak the roots overnight in a small amount of water, crush them the next day and return to water and boil. The resulting extract is the insecticide. Roots and rhizomes of hellebore, which control a number of leaf-eating insects, may be used the same way.

"Rue, the bitterest of herbs, is an excellent insect repellent deterring the Japanese beetle when planted near roses and raspberries.

"Buckwheat is valuable as a soil builder and it will grow on very poor soils while collecting lots of calcium. Used in this manner it not only will take the light away from low growing weeds, choking them out, but if plowed under as green manure it will sweeten the soil and make it more suitable for growing other crops. Buckwheat does not like winter wheat.

If for any reason you cannot reach us in the daytime try between 6-9 p.m. in the evenings.

Herbally yours,
E. Diona Cerelli, C.H.

GMS Band Students Score High Marks At Solo & Ensemble

Thirty-six percent of the Middle School Band competed at an individual events festival on Saturday, April 19. Students from area Middle Schools competed in solos (one person), duets (two persons), trios (three persons) and ensembles for the opportunity to see how they match up against students their age from area schools. There are no school class distinctions; students from all different class schools perform without knowing who came from a Class C school, Class A school, and so forth.

"The band students were really fantastic. They handled themselves at the festival really well and it was a great treat to watch them and be with them all day long. We left Grayling at 7:00 a.m. Saturday, traveled to Gaylord, had a great day, and then arrived back at Grayling at 4:00 p.m.," said GMS band director Dennis Ormsbee.

The scoring awarded is from a superior rating of a 1 or 1st Division to the bottom score of a V. Our students prepared very diligently for the day and here are the results:

1st Div. ratings - Kevin Austin on a clarinet solo, Matt Branch - snare drum solo, Jamie Petrie - trombone solo, Anna Hagemeister - clarinet solo, Chad Ormsbee - trombone solo, Casey Goeckerman - snare drum solo, Josh Woodland - clarinet solo, Matt Branch & Casey Goeckerman - snare drum duet, Shannon Phillips - cornet solo.

2nd Div. ratings - Jodi Ball - flute solo, Kristie Lamie - flute solo, Anna Hagemeister and Cheryl Johnson - clarinet duet, Chad Ormsbee & Jamie Petrie - trombone duet, Cheryl Johnson - clarinet solo, Jessica Perritt - piano solo, Kim Edinger - flute solo, Richard Moss - cornet solo, Richard Moss and Ted Johnston - cornet duet.

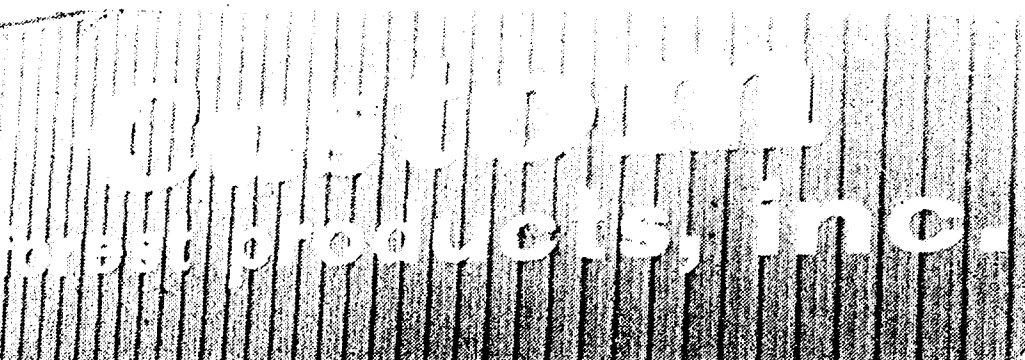

Eighteen events entered from Grayling with the results of 9 - 1st Div. and 9 - 2nd Div. ratings.

Amy Hough accompanied 9 of the events on piano and Margo Rembowski, Mrs. Ormsbee, and Mrs. Kathy Butler chaperoned.

American Dance Entertains Students

Last Friday afternoon, April 18, at 1:00 p.m. almost 800 elementary students (kindergarten through fifth grade) and their teachers filled the bleachers in the high school gym to watch the Harbinger Dance Co. perform their production, Dance American Style, created by Artistic Director, Lisa Nowak.

Ms. Nowak and the dancers gave the students a history lesson they will not forget. Ms. Nowak introduced the audience to the heritage of American Dance.

Beginning with America's first dancers, the American Indians, the students watched an Eagle dance to the sound of a drum. Following were George and Martha Washington, The Shakers, Slave women dancing the blues, a square dance to which the audience clapped to the rhythm of the dance, and a 1940's boogie woogie. The program ended with a modern dance, "Saying Hello with our Hands." At this point, volunteers were chosen from the audience to join Ms. Nowak and four of the dancers on the gym floor.

Some students thought of ways to say "hello" with their body. The audience imitated their movements. The other volunteers divided into four groups. Each group created and performed a dance while the rest of their peers and teachers watched and enjoyed.

Ms. Nowak pointed out to the students that dancing can be a job, as it is for her dancers. She also said, "that dance is a way for everyone to express all kinds of communication."

The program was designed excellently for elementary students. It reinforced what the students are learning in their classrooms and music classes. They could relate to the dances. It kept their attention and they were a terrific audience.

Almost 800 students and teachers left the High School at 2:05 p.m. with smiles and words like "It was great," "It was fun," "It was excellent." This assembly was a history lesson the children will remember.

The Harbinger Dance American Style was sponsored jointly by the Crawford County Arts Council, Kirtland Community College, The Rosecommon Chamber Music Society Arts Council, and funded in part by the Michigan Council for the Arts. Contributions to help support future programs may be sent by check or money order to Crawford County Arts Council, P.O. Box 1, Grayling, Mich. 49738.

Catch and Release

Crawford County and studies have shown a drop in fishing pressure due to no-kill regulations.

In balancing both sides of the case, Davis said it is clear no harm will be caused if the new rule is delayed. On the other hand, he said, the harm to local economy if the new rule is implemented threatens to be immediate and irreparable.

"Under such circumstances, the Court is impelled to grant the relief sought by plaintiffs," he said.

Davis ordered the implementation and enforcement of the catch-and-release rule for 8.7 miles of the mainstream from Burton's to Wakeley to be temporarily stopped pending the outcome of this litigation or further order of the court.

Davis ruled that the 1985 slot size limits will continue in effect for the 8.7 miles of the AuSable.

A hearing date for a full court hearing has not been set yet. The Attorney General's office have not decided whether to appeal the injunction or go ahead to a court hearing.

Senator Binsfeld, who took the stand Wednesday to testify, called the restraining order a victory for AuSable trout anglers.

"This is a real victory for all fish lovers in this area. It just goes to show what can happen when people get involved," said Binsfeld.

"With trout season opening April 26, this order came just in time," said Representative Ostling. "I'm very pleased at the way the situation was resolved."

Pete Stephan, president of the Committee To Oppose Catch and Release, said they won a battle but not the war. He said the Michigan United Conservation Clubs passed a resolution asking the NRC to rescind the no-kill rule. MUCC has started a letter-writing campaign to NRC members, said Stephan, and he urged all those opposed to mandatory catch and release to write Stewart Myers, NRC chairman.

"Now is the time the public may have a chance for input," said Stephan.

He said his group would rather see the NRC rescind the rule than spend more money in a court battle. The Committee To Oppose Catch and Release has already spent $10,000 to fight the new rule, and Stephan said that doesn't count the public's tax money that is being used to pay the Attorney General's office to defend the NRC.

SPORTS FANS!

Brought To You By Brad Scher

Ever wonder why golf courses have 18 holes instead of some other number? Actually, in the early days of golf's development in England, different courses did have different numbers of holes. For example, when the first British Open was played, at the Prestwick Club in 1860, that course had only 12 holes. Some other courses then had 7 holes, some had 8, some had 14. But the most famous course, the St. Andrews Club of Scotland, just happened to have 18 holes — and in the years following 1860, other courses increased to 18 holes merely to follow the pattern set by St. Andrews. And, thus 18 holes became the standard for golf courses everywhere.

One of the strangest teams in baseball history was the 1930 Philadelphia Phils. All 8 regular players on that team batted over .300 that year — yet the team finished in LAST place!

How fast could you drive a car in the old days? Well, the first auto race in the United States was held in Chicago on Thanksgiving Day, 1895. It was a 50-mile race, and the winning car, driven by famous inventor Frank Duryea, traveled at the average speed of — believe it or not — 7 1/2 miles per hour!

I bet you didn't know... That in 1966 Scher Motors was a little dealership across from Spike's Keg O' Hells. We didn't have the Pontiac or Buick franchises or the Chrysler franchise. Thank you Grayling for helping this grow.

Resource Review

by Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Late April and May are considered the time of year when wildfire danger is the highest. Warm weather which dries out leaves, grass and slash in woodlands, accompanied by normal windy days turn much of the state into a tinderbox.

In Crawford County, with miles and miles of highly flammable jack pine, the situation is even more acute. A discarded cigarette, an improperly controlled debris fire, even sparks from an ORV tailpipe can turn into a spark from a welding torch.

Most wildfires (nearly 70% statewide) are caused by debris burning. People like to clean up their yards in the spring and use fires to dispose of whatever brush or leaves they accumulate. One lax moment or an unexpected breeze can cause thousands of dollars in damage.

The Forest Fire Law (Act 329, P.A. 1969) requires that "at any time the ground is not snow covered, a person shall not burn any flammable material on or adjacent to forest land... without a permit..." An exception to this is burning for domestic purposes. A proper burner constructed of metal or masonry with a metal covering device with openings no larger than 3/4 of an inch is required for this. A campfire is also lawful.

Any person who violates a provision of the Forest Fire Law and starts a fire is liable for all resulting damages including suppression costs.

Editor's Mailbox

Mr. Madsen,
I'd like to address "The Bible Speaks" column of April 24th. Dr. Langdon must feel insecure with his beliefs. If he truly believed what he preached he wouldn't have to attack others beliefs through name calling.

I am a Roman Catholic and I don't feel my religion is corrupt or that I have been taught heresy. The ways of the Catholic church are different from the Baptist, different from the Methodist, and different from the Seventh Day Adventist, that doesn't make anyone of them wrong or corrupt.

If Dr. Langdon would like converts to his beliefs maybe he should try to be more tolerant and accepting of others. I don't think prejudice is a way to become closer to God.

Sincerely,
Donna M. Cross

Boone Nominated For Service Award

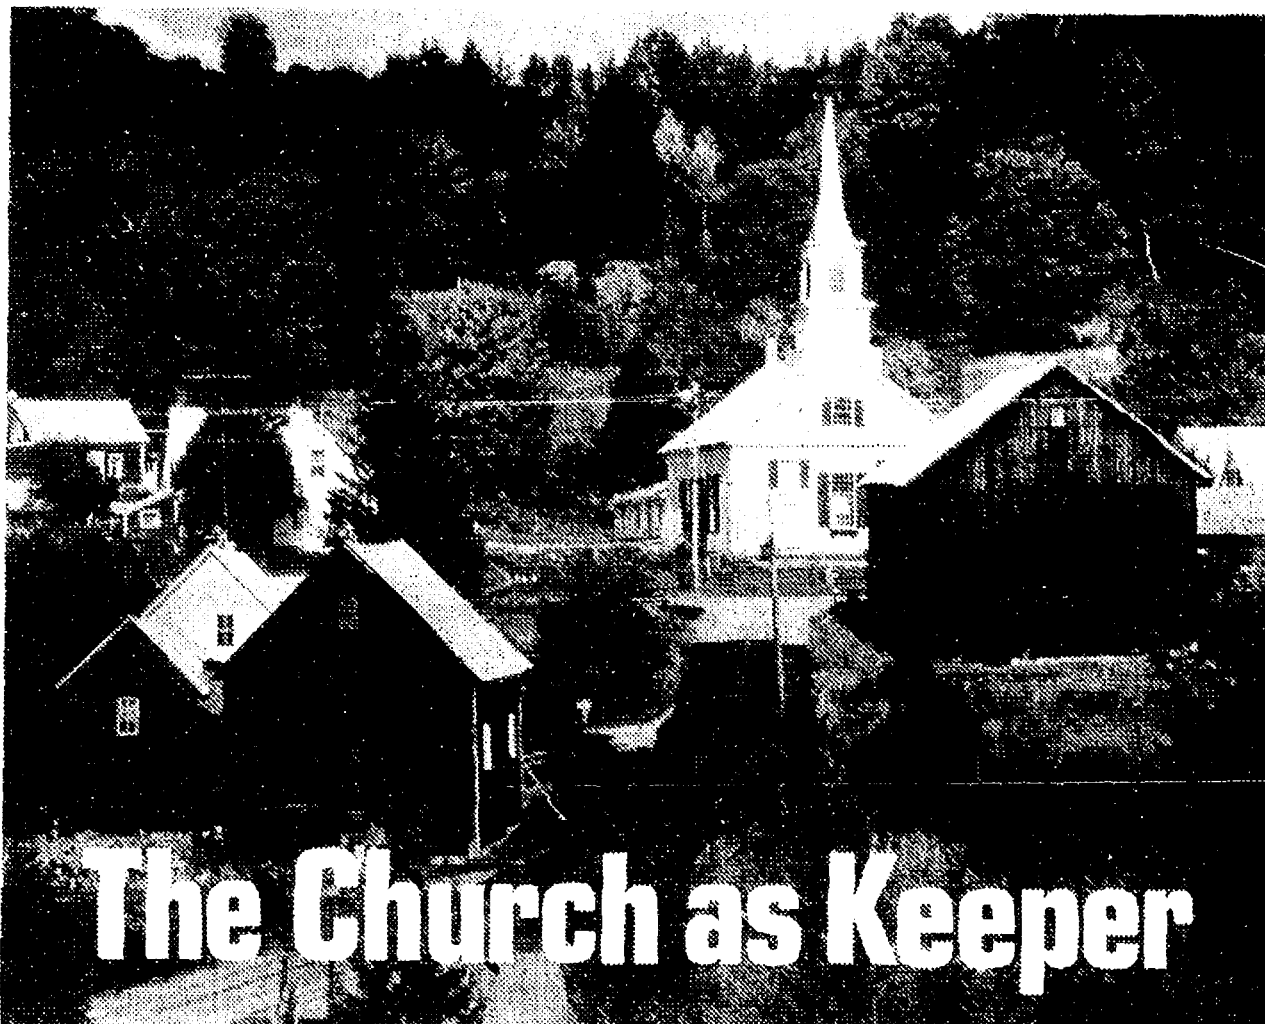

Jim Boone of Grayling has been nominated by Mercy Hospital, Grayling, to the 1986 United States Achievement Academy National Yearbook, according to Donna Pflum, Coordinator of Volunteer Services.

Boone, a youth volunteer at the hospital, was nominated for this National Leadership and Service Award program for his leadership, hard work and achievement at Mercy Hospital. He joins other nominees across America in being recognized nationally.

"Youth Volunteers are usually highly motivated, service-oriented young people who voluntarily give of their time and effort to serve others," said Mrs. Pflum.

CHURCH DIRECTORY

The Church as Keeper

In many newspapers "Church news" seldom makes front page. Some coming event, a special program, or visiting clergy receives notice somewhere in the printed page but hardly any mention on television. (Unless there is church controversy that rates as hard-core news.) And this is understandable from news media's point of purpose.

Yet the church is the "keeper of the springs" of society's great ocean. Jesus called His followers "salt" and "leaven" and "light." One seldom comments on the salt but the steak; not the yeast but the hot rolls; not the lights but the ballgame being played at night.

The church, the great "keeper of the springs," has seasoned society by being the first in education. Many of the great universities were birthed by the church as well as hospitals, medical schools, orphanages, and homes for the aging. Jesus' followers seasoned the U.S. Constitution and outright wrote the Bill of Rights through the efforts of Rev. John Leland and James Madison (whom moved its adoption).

While the church is not front page news, it is nonetheless quietly going about its appointed mission in hamlet and city keeping the springs clean and purifying the water that flows into the mainstream of human existence.

Leadership Study at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church

The late president, Harry Truman, often referred to leaders as people who can get others to do what they don't want to do — and make them like doing it! So writes Charles R. Swindall, author of "Hand Me Another Brick."

Beginning on May 14th and continuing the second Wednesday of every month, Mt. Hope Lutheran Church will be offering a Leadership Study based on the work of Charles Swindall, a senior pastor of First Evangelical Free Church in Fullerton, California. A popular author, Mr. Swindall writes, "Being a leader is an inevitable calling. It appears glamorous and glorious but it is more often lonely and thankless... unselfishly they give of themselves to accomplish the objectives regardless of the sacrifice or cost. The perils are ever present and the toll is great. But so are the rewards, fleeting as they may be."

Mr. Swindall will, through a series of tapes, touch on the following topics: Relate to a "boss who won't budge"; Cope with unwarranted criticism; Help yourself and others through a financial crunch; Resolve personality conflicts and strained relationships; Balance faith in God and personal planning.

Mt. Hope Lutheran Church welcomes the public to attend every second Wednesday from 6:00-6:45 beginning May 14th.

Volunteer on the Go!

Mrs. Jackie Parker is another one of our volunteer teacher's aides. She has been with the school program for 5 years now. On Tuesday mornings you will find Jackie keeping busy in Mrs. McEvers' 3rd grade class correcting assignments, copying worksheet papers, working with individual students, and various other duties as needed.

Among Jackie's volunteer credits are: 3 years as a Sunday School teacher at Michelson Memorial Methodist Church; teaching an exercise class at the church called "Body and Soul", for 3 years; has been a Girl Scout Leader and now is the service unit director for the past 5 years.

She also works part time at the Great Lakes Federal Savings. So when she has spare time she says she enjoys golfing, bowling, crocheting, cross country skiing, camping and swimming. When I asked her how she got started with our program she said she mainly wanted to help in her 2 daughters classes and now she really enjoys being with the kids and being able to help them.

She added that more people should become school volunteers just for the reward of being able to watch the children grow. She feels people will also get a better insight into what their own children are doing and how parents can help them when needed.

Thanks Jackie for all you have given of yourself to our schools and to the community. Your "caring and sharing" is appreciated and felt by many.

Anyone who would like to feel the special rewards of helping children in our schools, please find out more about the Crawford AuSable Schools Volunteer Program. Just call Mrs. Wolf at 348-7641.

Christman, Naour Honored By Grayling ABWA

Diane Christman was recently elected Woman of the Year and John Naour named Business Associate of the Year by the Grayling Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Annually, each ABWA chapter elects one of its members for the Woman of the Year award. Selection is based on the member's achievements in business, community activities and participation in the Association.

Diane and her husband have owned and operated Milltown Tool and Engineering Inc. in Grayling's Industrial Park since moving to this area in 1978. The Christmans have four children and one granddaughter.

Diane received her education in Utica and attended Pontiac Business School. She was Education Secretary for the Lutheran Church in Utica. Before moving to Grayling, she was a Campfire Leader, Coach of the Youth Bowling Program, and involved in establishing AAU competitive swimming. Activities in Grayling are connected with ABWA. Diane has been very active since joining the organization. She is presently Vice President and has held the position of Corresponding Secretary; has worked on Business Associate of the Year and the Membership and Publicity Committees. Other activities include the Float Committee, Spring Tea Chairman, Golf Outing, Crawford County Fair, and Rest Area Refreshment Stand.

Diane has been a member of ABWA since 1981. She is now eligible to compete for the 1986 Top Ten Business Women of ABWA Award.

John Naour, General Manager and Vice President of Cornell Realty, Inc., was nominated for Business Associate of the Year by his wife, Norma. John has been with Cornell Realty since 1971. He has served as director for the Water/Winter Wonderland Board of Realtors. He is a member of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, has served as Director, and is presently Chairman of the Fund Raising Committee. John is an officer of the Booster Club and a member of the Rotary Club. He recently won community recognition for serving as chairman of the Winter Carnival.

Before coming to Grayling, John was a graphic arts photographer in the printing business and taught in that field. He and Norma then purchased a resort on Lake Margrethe and John started selling real estate for Cornell. The Naours are member of St. Mary's Church. They have lived in Grayling since 1971 and have one daughter, Jennifer.

The purpose of honoring business associates is to strengthen on-the-job relationships and increase understanding of the role of business in the community.

These awards were presented on April 19 at the combined Woman of the Year/Business Associate event which was held at the Arrowhead Inn.

Grayling High Musical This Weekend

"Half a Sixpence," the musical comedy with a title that gives away its British origin, though not its American success, will be presented in three performances beginning Thursday, May 1. This Broadway and London musical hit with songs you can't stop humming will be presented by the Grayling High School Players in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium.

All seats for the May 1, 2, and 3 performances are reserved and tickets are presently on sale at Mac's Drugs in downtown Grayling. Price of admission is $4.00. Tickets not sold in advance will be available at the door the night of the performance.

"Half a Sixpence," is all fun. It's a jolly musical hit about a young man who got everything he could possibly dream of - he got rich, he got accepted into genteel society, he got engaged to a wealthy heiress, he got poor again and he got relieved of the heiress.

Doors at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium will open at 7:30 and the curtain will go up on this happy-go-lucky musical adapted from H.G. Wells most popular novel "Kipps," promptly at 8:00 p.m.
